Dear Family Members and Service Providers:

The demands of caring for an individual with autism are often great. Families can experience high levels of stress especially in relation to finding services and supports. To assist families across the Commonwealth of Kentucky, the Kentucky Autism Training Center has initiated the development of a service directory of agencies or providers who serve individuals with autism.

Working with public and private agencies, organizations, and support groups, the KATC conducted a mass mailing to inquire if service providers would like to share information about their services. The attached service directory reflects the information voluntarily submitted by service providers and agencies. This directory is meant for informational purposes only and is not necessarily an endorsement of the recourses listed. It is recommended you speak with a representative of the organization and/or the direct service provider prior to enrolling in a program to ensure that the interests, skills, talents and needs of each individual can be met.

As a service provider, if you would like to share information with families about your organization, please complete the Kentucky Autism Services and Supports form that is available upon request or on our web-site. The directory will be updated as needed and will be made available to families and be posted on the Kentucky Autism Training Center's website. The development and printing costs associated with this the first edition of this document were funded in part by the Kentucky General Assembly and Opportunities for Family Leadership.

Please feel free to share this information with families and professionals interested in enhancing services for individuals with autism spectrum disorders.

If you have questions or feedback regarding the Kentucky Autism Services and Supports Directory, please feel free to contact me at 502-852-7799 or rebecca.grau@louisville.edu.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Grau

The mission of the Kentucky Autism Training Center is to enhance supports for persons with autism by providing information and technical assistance to families and service providers across Kentucky.

Kentucky Autism Training Center (KATC) places emphasis on providing information and training on intervention strategies that are supported by research as being effective with individuals with autism spectrum disorders. As new needs are identified, the KATC will strive to meet these needs through collaboration and partnerships. In addition, the Center places emphasis on building performance-based program evaluation efforts at all levels of operation.

While the Kentucky Autism Training Center (KATC) does not provide direct clinical assessment or intervention services, all activities are designed to have a direct impact on the individual. In addition, KATC staff members work with other agencies to assist them in conducting assessments and providing direct intervention services to individuals.

Family-Based Technical Assistance

KATC staff members are prepared to provide families with an overview of available resources and interventions. KATC, in collaboration with regional support groups, provides workshops and training seminars on topics of specific interest to family members.

School-Based Team Consultations and Technical Assistance

Staff members of the Kentucky Autism Training Center can work directly with teams of professionals and parents to facilitate their development, implementation, and evaluation of educational and community-based programs for children and adolescents with autism. School systems, educational cooperatives, or individual schools can schedule workshops and application sessions.

Statewide Information Dissemination and Training

KATC is currently establishing statewide supports and training activities for all professionals and parents who are involved in promoting gains for individuals with autism by offering:

Amanda L. King Resource Library-KATC offers a resource library for parents and professionals across Kentucky. The Resource Library contains hundreds of print, electronic, & video materials that can be mailed to patrons across the Commonwealth.

Presentations-KATC staff will attend local, regional, & state conferences and meetings to present to professionals and parents information on autism and effective strategies for working with individuals with autism. To schedule a presentation or workshop, Graduate Program-KATC, in conjunction with the Department of Teaching and Learning at the University of Louisville, College of Education & Human Development has developed a Distance Education graduate program with an emphasis on autism, assistive technology, and collaboration. For more information, please visit the program web-site at www.louisville.edu/edu/edsp/distance/index.html .
